...and then there was the handling of rainy weather and the further blacked up presented by Saturday when the half-holiday rule is in general observance. At the meeting yesterday it was decided to send out today 5000 papers to the association members, and to take steps to secure a financial interest in the organization of the members in keeping with the members' incomes, no matter how small they may be, will be grateful to be relieved. It is believed these letters will be productive of gratifying results, for the great enthusiasm always is manifested among members over the progress of their beloved institution. It is a valuable work in the way of doing locally, and so the recognition of this fact that difficulty should be experienced in carrying the present undertaking through to a successful issue. In all instances, the men and women who approached with a request for assistance have cheerfully complied with a donation, and it is expected that the same condition will be encountered every day during the campaign. Every month the members of the association are becoming more and more apparent, and the general feeling is becoming to do what it can to help in extending the good work.

WHAT'S HE GOT TO SETTLE WITH.
HE'S IN JAIL, BUT WOMAN SEEMS ON THE JOB.
Promoter of Panama Development Company Has No Visible Resources, to Attorney's Knowledge. He's Got to Tell Trial Judge How When He Gets Here.
If Dr. John Grant Lyman, the financier who is alleged to have sold "all most" Panama government land for $5 per acre is able to make any restitution of funds to trusting investors when he is returned from McNeil's Island for trial on indictments charging misuse of the United States mail it will come through the "woman in the case," known locally and in Pasadena as "Mrs. Lyman."
Howard E. Reach of the firm of Pratt & Reach, attorneys, who represented John Redpath, vice-president of the company, and E. A. Lyman, assistant secretary, officers who were as badly fooled as any ordinary stockholder, said last night that he did not know what kind of a bee is buzzing in Lyman's bonnet now.
"He spent his money as fast as he collected it," said Reach, "and he did not clear more than $20,000 out of his Panama deal. The only way I can see for the return of any of the money is through the woman in the case." Mrs. Lyman, who is understood to have been working for him in New York during his imprisonment, and who may have accumulated some funds.
Lyman has made a mysterious proposition—all real financiers call "em propositions"—to Assistant United States District Attorney Regan in which he agrees to show the investors in his Panama across how to get their money back, and then some, the consideration being lenient handling for himself at the hands of the authorities. The exact nature of the scheme the promoter is keeping profoundly secret, and the Assistant District Attorney has instructed him to tell it to the trial judge. The investors are naturally interested, but not very hopeful. The doctor has been practicing for several months on McNeil's Island at the suggestion of the United States government, the "suggestion," like a royal invitation, being tantamount to a command. All he did was to escape from custody while being treated in a hospital for supposed insanity, and he is to be returned to Los Angeles for trial upon the original indictments charging improper use of the mails in the promotion of the Panama scheme.
He would signalize his re-entry into Los Angeles society and endeavor to obviate his return to his present isolation by establishing a bargain in exchange of certificates for real money, and if he has his way he will be behind the counter while the abolition is going forward.
"Panama development stock certificates, third class to the right; opposite the fancy jury boxes. A premium with every one."

THEY WILL LOOK PERFECTLY CHIC.

New Costumes for Big Pre-Inaugural Parade to Be of Broadcloth Trimmed With Gilt Braid With Nine Blue Stars—Mrs. Trout Has One of Especial Design.
CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—Gold and white are to be the costumes of the Illinois delegation of suffragists in the national parade in Washington of March 3. The first one was brought to headquarters here from the costumers yesterday. White broadcloth is the foundation, with trimmings of gold braid and nine blue stars (for the nine suffrage states, as the only note of color. An especially beautiful costume is being designed for Mrs. George W. Trout, president of the Illinois Society, who will carry the banner.
The costume consists of a white silk trimmed with gold braid. On the front of the stole is the word "Illinois." On the end, which is to be tossed over the shoulder, are embroidered the blue stars. A jaunty little cap of white and gold is made to sit well down on the head. Each marcher will carry a white pennant with the Illinois motto on it in gold. Display of the costume aroused enthusiasm at headquarters and caused a rush to enroll for the great parade.
Another Health Campaign to Be Conducted on Isthmus Because of Insects Bred in New Swamp.
PANAMA, Feb. 8.—[Special Dispatch.] Another health campaign on the isthmus, such as Col. Gorgas conducted, will probably have to be undertaken because of the creation of swamps by the rising of Gatun Lake as the work on the spillway dam proceeds. Already from one large swamp so formed have come great swarms of mosquitoes which have settled over the town of Gatun.
Investigation has shown that these mosquitoes are not of the yellow fever bearing kind but of the malarial type. An outbreak of malaria is feared, but this can be controlled much more easily than yellow fever.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."
The Teacher's Calling.
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Frequently I read articles that make me so indignant that I feel an almost irresistible impulse to rush into print in defense of this opinion or that view. Hitherto I have firmly put down such inclinations.
Today's Times, however, contains a letter from Mrs. Lucy Shelton which seems to require a reply from someone. Not that the letter is all wrong, but that some of it is unreasonably unjust.
No doubt some men do make teaching "A stepping-stone to something else," because it gives them time and means for study. Is this wrong? I think not. But we are told that the teacher, who takes that as a life work, is a poor creature devoid of ambition or incapable of doing anything else. This is the part of the letter which I resent.
There may be, and I am imaginative enough to believe there is, unselfishness among men, I have no doubt there are male teachers who seldom think of money except when by the necessities of life, they are compelled to do so. I believe there are many men who would much rather build a human character than a wonderful bridge or a magnificent edifice. There are men, I think, who prefer to watch the mind of a child unfold, rather than the workings of the human brain in preference to electricity, whose careful hands guide the wavering steps of youth into safe paths, and in the twilight of life these men look back upon many whose careers they have watched with interest, and they say to themselves softly, "my work was well worth while."
Shall we call such a one "a step of a man"? Never. For, though he might have more of the "brooding influence" of good men.

Miss Meyer, like her sister, Miss Julia Meyer, is an accomplished linguist, having acquired a perfect use of French, German and Italian. Lieut. Rodgers was Ambassador to Russia and Italy.
Lieut. Rodgers was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1904 and his line of ancestors in the navy dates from Commodore Perry.

Capt. A. E. Enslin, of the launch, explained his haste by saying that he was in a hurry to get to Half Moon Bay to help move a kelp factory to Long Beach.

CHICAGO JUDGE SAYS MONEY CANNOT BUY AIL.
Declares United States Has About as Many Educational Institutions as the Whole of Europe and About as Many Students as All of Them Can Boast.
[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.] CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 9.—[Special Dispatch.] Big endowment funds, costly buildings and high-priced instructors do not make a university, Judge Marcus Kavanaugh declared in an address at the twentieth annual banquet of the University Association of Valparaiso University.
"Buildings costing millions, professors brought from the ends of the earth haven't yet made a university," the speaker said. "Universities are born, not made. It takes the atmosphere of veneration for learning, and a sense of regard for scholarship—things that money cannot buy—to make a university."
TAKES YEARS OF DEVOTION.
"Money cannot put into an institution the things that come from years of devotion, from unselfish duty. A university—a real university—is not an exotic; it is not made to order, but grows up from the soil and from the manhood and womanhood which serve it."
"And an institution that simply trains the mind fails of its purpose. A real college should not only train the mental life of its students, but the moral side of them as well. The institution that leaves God out of its curriculum leaves out the greatest factor that builds up a university and a university community."
Judge Kavanaugh said that the United States had about the same number of universities as the whole of Europe and nearly as many students as the 235,000 of which the European colleges boast.
"They sneer at our colleges abroad," he said, "but the very multitude of them and their students indicate the vigor of this young nation and is the strongest prophecy of our future greatness."

REBEL HORDES RAVAGE ILL-FATED REPUBLIC.

Wanton Torture and Indescribable
Atrocities Recorded Almost Daily.

Insurrectos Strike Blindly at Everything that Suggests the Hated Madero Administration—From Northern to Southern Border Mexico Is Undermined by Revolutionary Activity.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 7.—[By Special Correspondence of the A. P. to the Border.] Accounts of battle, uprisings, intrigues and general revolutionary disturbances covering a period of more than two years have continued with such monotonous frequency that both here and abroad a sense of the government's struggle with a disaffected people is regarded as a "old story," but to a more vital interest now than ever. By many, it is believed that the end of the fight is not far off; the increasing horde of rebels is steadily attacking everything that suggests Madero's administration; the non-commissioned and peasant element, including every one of the so-called better class, anxiously await each new development, and foreigners begin to feel their concentration with "what do you think Wilson will do?"

DIDN'T STAY KILLED.
The close of January showed little, if any, improvement for the government. On numerous occasions the rebels leader had been killed in action, but in a majority of cases the slain leader was not larger today than ever. The Federal army, its ranks filled with conscripts, including prisoners and even captured rebels, continues to garrison the larger cities, and the rebels continue to control the rural districts almost at will. Tales of rebel victories reach the capital from time to time and are as frequently denied by the government officials. The fighting occurred in the border almost every day and that the engagements are of such magnitude that the Federal forces employ artillery in many of them, is admitted in government offices, but the losses almost invariably are in the proportion of about 90 per cent. rebels dead and 10 per cent. Federal. Except in rare cases, rebel wounded are reported as rebel dead. The law gives the Federal the right to kill the rebel wounded.

REBELS ON ALL SIDES.
The movements of the rebels in the north, along the American frontier, attract more attention in the United States than do the operations of those in the south. Mexican government circles also display keener interest in the border operations, perhaps on account of the attendant danger of international complications. The greatest activity, however, and by far the largest groups of rebels, are found in the region south of the capital. The isolation of towns of considerable importance no longer is of enough interest to arouse public apprehension to a high pitch, and not even the presence of rebels within ten and fifteen miles of Mexico City excites the residents of the capital.

ATROCITIES.
Stories of atrocities are common, and the bearing away of young girls by Zapatistas excites about the same degree of interest as does the report that the rebels have confiscated so many head of cattle. The rebels in the north are not given to the same methods of personal revenge as are those in the south. Occasionally the northern rebels have executed Federalists in reprisal, but in the south wanton torture is common. Recently, in the State of Mexico, forty miles from the national capital, the Zapatistas, angry at an aged Indian who persisted in carrying the mail after he had been warned not to, disciplined him by first cutting off both his feet. Then they cut off his hands, and the last act was the thrusting of a pole through the man's neck and the hanging of his body in a tree, the ends of the pole resting on branches.

POLITICAL ARRESTS.
Arrests of prominent persons in Mexico are not uncommon these days, and the judges of the Supreme Court have felt that a little precaution on their part might save embarrassment. In due and formal manner the members of this body decided to carry with them cards of identification, which were calculated to convince any police officer that the judges were entitled to the same exemptions that a Congressman enjoys.

CONSCRIPTIONS PROTESTED.
To protest against the conscription of many of their neighbors, a committee of the citizens of Tenango, in the State of Mexico, has called at the office of the Minister of the Interior. They explained that the Federal army officers had made a mistake; that in rounding up a lot of Zapatistas for enforced service in the army, they had carried off a number of peaceful citizens.

Ever Bay Lands Heavy Force on Marmora Coast to Make Final Stand for Tuxtepec.
(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)
LONDON, Feb. 10.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Constantinople says that Ever Bay, chief of the general staff, has landed his force on the Marmora coast and heavy fighting is expected to take place at Gallipoli. This, the correspondent says, is expected to be the decisive battle of the war, as the Turks are concentrating their efforts for the re-take of Gallipoli.

A dispatch to the Chronicle from Constantinople asserted that the arrangements for Ever Bay's raid was hopelessly muddled, that complete confusion reigned and that the situation is regarded as more serious than it was in November.

The Daily Mail's Gallipoli correspondent says that Haki Pasha will start for London Tuesday and hopes to reopen the peace negotiations.

In his recently published book, "Health Through Rational Diet," from the press of the F. A. Davis Co., Philadelphia, says:

As a breakfast food another variety of the healthful cereals which are much used in America would be advantageous. Grape-Nuts, in which the floury substance has been dextrinized by long baking and thus rendered digestible and easy of assimilation, is eaten with cream and would be a useful addition to our usual breakfast.

The recommendation of this eminent European authority to the wealthiest health seekers in the world (those who frequent the famous baths of Carlsbad) is especially interesting to Americans.

Rebel Leader Shot Through Head in Front of National Palace.

Madero Regime Totters.

here at the National Palace and are holding a council of war tonight. The guns captured by Diaz in this morning's battle are now trained on Belen Prison.

Madero relies on the arrival of loyal troops from the outside to regain the capital for him.

MADERO NOT WILLING TO CONCEDE DEFEAT.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 9.—President Francisco Madero, with his ministers and a strong detachment of loyal troops, is fortifying in the National Palace tonight, while Gen. Felix Rios, with a large majority of the regulars behind him has practical control of the capital.

In several bloody encounters today the President and his supporters succeeded in defending themselves against the rebels. Notwithstanding the fact that the troops in large numbers are in a state of revolt which carried all before them today, there was an appearance of genuine optimism at the palace among Madero and his ministers.

To all parts of the republic, Madero telegraphed reassuring news which he and his Cabinet seemed to believe. The State Governors and military commanders were assured of the loyalty of the army and that tranquility had been restored.

MADERO STILL CONFIDENT.
To a representative of the Associated Press, President Madero said the facility with which the new revolt had been suppressed was only another indication of the strength of the government and the loyalty of the army. Pointing from a window in the palace to a mob, for the most part boys, carrying the national flag, and crying vivas for Madero, the President said:

"There, you can see the people are with us. It is said that the government stands alone, but that is not true. The government has the support of the people. There will be no more temporizing. We are going to use the iron hand."

MARTIAL LAW.
Earlier in the day, shortly after the first outbreak occurred, Madero declared martial law throughout the city and announced that he would ask Congress to authorize a suspension of the guarantees throughout the republic. Gen. Huerta was named as post commander on account of the wounding of Gen. Villar.

In the belief that the government had scored an easy victory, Foreign Minister Lacunza, Ernesto Madero and others of the Cabinet, embraced one another and congratulated themselves and the President on what they called the new turn of events.

FIGHT TO THE DEATH.
Those who have observed Rios closely point out that Gen. Diaz, who escaped being shot summarily following the failure of the Vera Cruz revolt, now can expect no clemency, but must fight to the death.

There is no question that Diaz is straining every fiber to depose Madero, and with the large forces at his disposal, he is in possession of the arsenal in the city and the powder works near by.

Madero is relying on the loyalty of Gen. Blanquet, who has been summoned from Toluca, forty miles distant, but Blanquet has only a thousand men under his command, and the rebels are confident of defeating him, should he refuse to join the revolt.

FOUR BATTLES.
The day was marked by four separate engagements, the most sanguinary of which took place in front of the national palace. But the most important was that which terminated in the formal surrender of the troops in the artillery barracks.

HUNDREDS SLAIN.
It is believed that not less than 500 persons were killed in the fighting. Among the number was Gen. Reginaldo Reyes, a strong adherent of Porfirio Diaz, and ex-Secretary of War.

The mutinous troops were led by students of the military school at Tlalpam, a suburb. They marched to the prison to which Gen. Felix Diaz had been transferred for safe keeping, and released him. Gen. Bernardo Reyes also was freed from Santiago military prison, there being no resistance in either quarter.

To the army of the mutineers quickly came portions of the First Cavalry, Twenty-fourth Cavalry and Twentieth Infantry, Gen. Manuel Mondragon, retired, was in command, but gave way to Gen. Diaz and Reyes.

GEN. REYES FALLS.
At 3:30 o'clock, the first encounter with loyal troops occurred in front of the national palace, and Gen. Reyes, whose long record as an army officer was broken little more than a year ago by a farcical revolt, was killed in a big gray horse. By his side rode Gen. Huerta, who was wounded.

Many fell in this engagement, and among the scores of bodies which strewn the streets were those of minor officers, women and boys of the lower classes, and members of the great crowd of spectators which had assembled at the firing of the first shot.

Gen. Lauro Villar, post commander of the capital, who remained loyal, was among those slightly wounded. The Minister of War, Gen. Garcia Pena, also received a slight injury.

MADERO LEADS TROOPS.
At the first call to arms, President Madero took command of a force of approximately 1000, consisting of mounted police, Chapultepec cadets and a small detachment of volunteers. He appeared at the head of this force a mile from the national palace, riding a big gray horse. By his side rode Gen. Huerta, hero of the campaign against Ocampo, and one of the army generals whom the public generally had suspected of being disloyal.

TURNED BACK MADERO.
Several blocks from the palace one of his lieutenants endeavored to dismount the President, and placing his hand on the horse's bridle, half turned the animal from the line. Madero protested vigorously and continued to lead the advance until the shooting began, when Gen. Huerta succeeded in persuading him to enter a building in a side street. This building, by a coincidence, was the same in which Gen. Reyes took refuge, in his campaign for the Presidency eighteen months ago, against a mob of Madero supporters, who attempted to stone him.

POPULACE STUFFED.
The revolt, in its unexpectedness, was such as to stupefy the populace, the lower elements apparently not knowing for whom to cheer. This is popularly given as the reason for lack of pillaging and looting.

The attack on the national palace found the government not altogether unprepared. In the interim between the release of Gen. Diaz and Gen. Reyes from prison, Gustavo Madero, brother of the President, and Gov. Garza of the Federal district, learned of the plans of the rebels. The Minister of War and Gen. Villar made hasty preparations to guard the palace. Riding at the head of their troops, Generals Diaz and Reyes approached from the east into the Zoocalo, the big square in front of the palace.

Gen. Reyes appeared for the first time in many months in the uniform of a general, but Diaz wore a blue sack suit and soft gray hat.

A halt of the mutinous forces was made when Gen. Villar, appearing at the door of the palace, raised his hand and challenged them. His answer was an order on the part of the rebels to begin firing.

Quickly the invading forces assumed positions around the square. When the mutinous forces were made aware of the situation, they began firing. Immediately from the palace came an answering fire. The defenders were using rifles and machine guns.

From the west could be seen advancing the force headed by President Madero. As it approached the rebels retired into a side street.

Thirty minutes later street fighting began in the neighborhood, but lasted only a short time. Neither side appeared ready to press its advantage, but just before noon Gen. Diaz led his command, numbered 1000, on a wide detour in an effort to reach the arsenal.

STREETS STREWN WITH DEAD.
When the fighting in the Zoocalo ceased, ambulances of the Red and White Cross picked up the dead and succored the wounded. The plaza, an area of four city blocks, was strewn with bodies of men and horses. In the palace there were few victims, but Col. Morelos, one of the most loyal of Madero's adherents, was killed.

Gen. Gregorio Ruiz, a retired officer, two captains and three lieutenants, were executed in the patio of the national palace. It is officially reported that this was by order of the government, but another story is that they were killed by a detachment of their own men because they opposed their joining in the revolt. Added to this is the report that these mutinous troops were overpowered and disarmed.

The Red and White Cross ambulances carried the wounded to provisional hospitals, where investigation showed there were almost as many civilian victims as soldiers. Outside of the fighting between the two opposing sides there was little disorder, and tonight the streets are patrolled by the rebel troops. The day only one mob assembled. It attacked the building of El Pais, the only independent morning newspaper printed in Spanish. The building was partly burned.

LED BY CADETS.
Gen. Mondragon, who led the mutineers in their first attack, at one time was prominently identified with the artillery corps. The first rising occurred among soldiers of the artillery branch of the army. It was they, led by cadets, who fired a fusillade at the rebels. A large number of rurales and mounted police then went over to the cause. Later an artillery company from Tacubaya with a dozen field guns, rode into the grounds shouting "viva Madero." It is reported that the Zapatistas have begun to move toward the capital in short distance south of the city.

DIAZ KEEPS VOW TO RETURN AS PRESIDENT.

This was the statement of ex-Judge Hutton yesterday in explanation of his course in attempting to reinstate the paroled convict and disbarred attorney.

Patrolman Dunham found the severed half-iron at the corner of College and Main streets about yesterday morning. A roll call of the inmates of the criminal ward at the County Hospital showed no one missing from that institution. There had been no prisoner taken from either the County or City Jail Saturday who had not been returned or otherwise Wonderfully properly accounted for. Fear of officers and other officials connected with every criminal branch of the city and county declared they had not lost a prisoner.

Local Magnates to Go North on Class D Matter.

BY HARRY WILLIAMS.

Johnny Kane is to champion the cause of John Tiedemann, the "new" player, against the "old" players of the Oakland club.

Tiedemann, it will be remembered, was panned last season when he thought seriously of quitting the team. Kane figured in the play that resulted in the "old" players' withdrawal from the "new" players' club.

It was caused by Tiedemann's awkwardness in trying to block Kane's first base.

After that, Kane was made known by the "new" players, and Kane, who was the Oakland club's player of the year, was made known by the "old" players.

Campi in Good Condition

the ring and boxed three rounds with Morgan. The referee, who was the old-time speed, but did not let himself out much. He punched the bag and did a little rope skipping.

Silent Dan Morgan, Knockout Brown's manager, dropped in at Verne's to take a peek at Joe Rivers. He is much like his old-time self.

Dan is nothing if not a booster and is on to his job all the time. Tim McGrath could not resist the opportunity to introduce the silent Dan to Billy Manning, who is also known as a dummy when there is anything to say.

Dan beat Billy to it and out-talked him from the start. Tim McGrath was the referee and gave the decision to Morgan, after he punched Billy in the ribs several times and told him to say something about Jack Dempsey.

Dan could talk of nothing else but Knockout Brown and Jack Britton. Manning has never seen either of them.

Sam Harris yesterday appointed Kid Williams custody of the banterweight title.

This goes to show that he has unbounded faith in the Kid's ability. Also, it indicates that Harris is not too modest to successfully make his way in the world.

"Coulton has claimed that he is too ill to fight," said Harris. "That being the case, Williams will defend his title for him until he is ready to defend it against Williams."

"Coulton claims that he is willing to meet the winner of the Williams-Campi battle. I will not believe it until his forfeit is up. I think that he intends to make a few short fights in the East, pick up a little money and then avoid a meeting with Williams by again going into temporary retirement. His excuse will be ill-health."

"My offer to make him a present of $500 the moment he signs articles with Williams still stands. It also goes for any other banterweight in the world."

Apparently Harris does not regard Campi as a possible stumbling block in his plans to install Williams as custodian of the title.

Feith Is Justified. A gentleman from Gotham, who attended Williams' workout yesterday, says that Harris' faith in the boy is fully justified. He was at the camp during the Williams-Coulton fight, and predicts that the Baltimore boy will win if they meet again. In that best Williams fought cautiously for eight rounds and barely held his own, but whaled Coulton to a whimper in the last six minutes. He says that Williams would have knocked Coulton out had he not loosed from the jump.

The right hand only can be used effectively against a boxer who uses Brown's system; at least it would be difficult to reach him with the left. Because of his peculiar system Brown generally puzzles his opponents for several rounds, and this has been a big factor in his winning fights. Rivers will endeavor to offset this by having some of his sparring partners adopt Brown's style.

who finished first and qualified for the match with Tetzi. Mounted on a big 12-horsepower Fiat, Magone shot away from the English Napier in the two-mile match race and was with a good margin against Frank Verbeck, holder of the world twenty-four-hour race record.

The two men were sent away on a flying start and Magone whirled into the pole. He finished the first mile with a comfortable lead, but with Verbeck pressing him closely as he struck the first turn. The two men fought it out on the back stretch, both slowed down for the rut, and Magone came into the turn in the lead, finishing first in 2m. 13.5s.

George Hill was matched with Tetzi for the second preliminary. Hill showed considerable speed, but was beaten by the champion, who finished the two miles in the fast time of 1m. 51.4-s. This sent Tetzi off to the finals against Magone.

SMALL CAR EVENT. Frank B. Goode, on the Studebaker thirty; Harry Gordon, on the Ford, and Arch Kincaid, on the Studebaker "37" came to the stretch for the five-mile event for small cars. Goode and Kincaid fought this race out to a close finish, with Goode a length ahead of the smaller car. The time of 5m. 35s. was excellent, considering the condition of the track.

With Magone groomed for the finals the Italian came to the scratch with a challenge that looked good. He was sent away with Tetzi but the champion proved too fast for Tetzi. The Fiat "Cyclone" was driven into an easy first place by Tetzi, who finished under wraps.

BUTLER'S Dry Oil is the very best. Why? Because it is the only oil that is made in America.

BOYS IN DANGER. Two small boys perched on the fence at the second turn in Arcot race had a narrow escape from serious injury and possible death when a wheel was hurled from the racing Studebaker, just after the car had struck the deep rut. Frank B. Goode, who was driving, tried to hold his racer to the course, but his speed was too great and the wheel was snapped off against the bank of earth and was sent high into the air and over the fence.

Just missing the heads of the boys the wheel and tire landed in the outer field. Good kept his car from turning turtle, but was forced out of an exciting handicap when he was leading the Fiat, driven by George Hill, and the smaller Studebaker driven by Arch Kincaid.

In the pursuit race George Hill was the winner, with Felix Magone second. Working against time Magone changed a tire in 25 seconds, a new world mark. His time was taken from the fraction of a second when his foot struck the ground until he had jumped back into his car. The former mark of 29 seconds was also held by Magone.

Owing to the condition of the track the twenty-five mile event was cut down to ten miles. Magone on the Fiat won this race, taking a lead early in the contest and finishing with a margin of 1111. Frank Verbeck, on the English Napier, was third. The time for the winning Fiat was 9m. 35s.

Felix Magone was the star in the match events and was the runner up

Teddy Tetzi in World Record-Breaking Fiat.

The car is stripped for action just as it looked after Champion Tetzi had completed five miles in 4m. 20s., a new world record.

these great champions, so had to stand for all Dan had to say.

Morgan had an audience of about fifty open-mouthed fighting fans, telling them all how easily Brown will trim Joe Rivers, after he punched Billy in the ribs several times and told him to say something about Jack Dempsey.

Dan could talk of nothing else but Knockout Brown and Jack Britton. Manning has never seen either of them.

Sam Harris yesterday appointed Kid Williams custody of the banterweight title.

This goes to show that he has unbounded faith in the Kid's ability. Also, it indicates that Harris is not too modest to successfully make his way in the world.

"Coulton has claimed that he is too ill to fight," said Harris. "That being the case, Williams will defend his title for him until he is ready to defend it against Williams."

"Coulton claims that he is willing to meet the winner of the Williams-Campi battle. I will not believe it until his forfeit is up. I think that he intends to make a few short fights in the East, pick up a little money and then avoid a meeting with Williams by again going into temporary retirement. His excuse will be ill-health."

"My offer to make him a present of $500 the moment he signs articles with Williams still stands. It also goes for any other banterweight in the world."

Apparently Harris does not regard Campi as a possible stumbling block in his plans to install Williams as custodian of the title.

Feith Is Justified. A gentleman from Gotham, who attended Williams' workout yesterday, says that Harris' faith in the boy is fully justified. He was at the camp during the Williams-Coulton fight, and predicts that the Baltimore boy will win if they meet again. In that best Williams fought cautiously for eight rounds and barely held his own, but whaled Coulton to a whimper in the last six minutes. He says that Williams would have knocked Coulton out had he not loosed from the jump.

The right hand only can be used effectively against a boxer who uses Brown's system; at least it would be difficult to reach him with the left. Because of his peculiar system Brown generally puzzles his opponents for several rounds, and this has been a big factor in his winning fights. Rivers will endeavor to offset this by having some of his sparring partners adopt Brown's style.

Spider Welch, whose defeat by Neapolo brought the latter prominently into the limelight as a championship possibility, boxed with his right hand in front in his amateur days, but later changed to the orthodox style.

Suburb of San Francisco?

Former Mayor of Los Angeles Writes Stinging Letter to Publishers Who Stir This City.

Former Mayor Henry T. Hazard has just bought a thirty volume deluxe edition of the United Editors' Perpetual Encyclopedia. After the first volume was delivered he discovered in the volume a reference to Los Angeles that thoroughly angered him and that he says would have prevented his purchase of the set had he known it was there. The books were purchased from a San Francisco publishing house and Hazard believes that the Bay City's jealousy of Los Angeles inspired the passage.

In the encyclopedia's account of the San Francisco earthquake of 1906 Hazard discovered this:

"Surrounding cities, towns and villages likewise suffered an incalculable amount of damage. Berkeley, Los Angeles and Palo Alto being among the heavy losers."

"Now what do you think of that," the pioneer exclaimed yesterday. "There is nothing like it in all literature. Wouldn't it make a saint hot to have Los Angeles, now considerably larger than San Francisco, classed as one of its surrounding suburbs? Besides Los Angeles suffered no loss from the earthquake. We didn't know that it had happened until we read about it in the papers. I found the paragraph too late to refuse the books. I had to do something to relieve my mind and so I wrote a letter to the publishers."

The following is a copy of the letter sent by Hazard to the United Editors' Association in San Francisco:

"Dear Sirs: When I purchased your encyclopedia I did not know that I was buying fairy tales, but thought that I was getting books devoted to the truth. To put into a publication the statement that Los Angeles is a suburb of San Francisco and suffered great loss from the earthquake of 1906 is a slander that should not be allowed to be published. The facts are that Los Angeles is a larger and more important city than San Francisco, not 'near-by' but several hundred miles distant and did not suffer any loss from the earthquake.

"Our people did not know of the earthquake until the reception of the dispatches. You will excuse me if I decline to encourage the publication of such slander."

"Yours respectfully,
"HENRY T. HAZARD."

STRONG MEN PRAISE HIM.

Chamber of Commerce Joins in Stewart Memorial.

Three-Fold Labors of Late President Lauded.

Tell of Lifelong Effort for Good of the City.

Eulogies by friends and associates of a busy life given up largely to the betterment of Los Angeles and Southern California marked the services yesterday at Masonic Temple in memory of George H. Stewart, former City Councilman, bank official and president of the Chamber of Commerce, who died suddenly, January 12, last, at Shanghai, China, while away on an ocean voyage recommended by his physician to benefit his failing health.

The speakers at the simple service were happily chosen to present Stewart's sterling qualities in three lines of his active life. Willis H. Booth sketched his efforts for the material prosperity of the community in which, thirty years ago, he chose to cast his lot; ex-Judge J. W. McKinley told of his social side, which won for him the love and veneration of those who knew him in the Sunset Club; while James A. Foshey, Past Eminent Commander of Los Angeles Commandery No. 2, Knights Templar, recalled his virtues as a brother Mason.

Presiding was Perry W. Weldner, also a past commander, who expressed his regret that it was possible to hold only a memorial service. After Stewart's death his body was taken to Yokohama, where it was cremated. The ashes were not brought to the temple yesterday, and by request of Mrs. Stewart, no flowers were sent. Seated upon the stage with Weldner and the speaker were J. C. Corbin, present Eminent Commander; Robert F. Train, Master of Pentapolis Lodge, P., and A. M.; representing the two bodies that claimed Stewart as a member, and Chaplain Arthur Brookman, who led in prayer and the benediction.

"Our friend was a patriot and an unselfish public servant," said Booth, after his introduction by Weldner. "It is difficult to say more of him in one breath than this, for the full circle of his virtues seems to have been described in the single sentence. We who knew him realize how he made his every act measure up to his high ideals. His own conscience gave him his greatest reward in his knowledge of rectitude and duty well done."

"His labors bore fruit directly and palpably. He worked hard for the harbor; he was instrumental largely in forming the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific Coast, an organization which has done well under the broad policy his foresight laid out. He was always in the front rank of those who have furnished our traditions of unselfish effort and high achievement. It was in the service of the community that he made the trip to Colorado last July that hastened his death."

McKinley told of Stewart's qualities as a member of the Sunset Club, praising his public spirit, private worth and his substantial accomplishments for the benefit of the community. Foshey said he had become a Mason in 1896, a Knight Templar a year later. Eminent Commander in 1901-4, and advanced to the thirty-second degree July 14, 1904.

"The people in some parts of Scotland," he said, "gather on Robbie Burns' birthday and listen to the reading of his poems with the tears streaming down their faces. So we might gather today, reciting the good works of our lost comrade, moved by them to future effort that now seems beyond us."

Orchestral music and songs by the Scottish Rite quartette were interspersed through the programme. Among those present were the directors and many members of the Chamber of Commerce, headed by President Osborne, and Frank Wiggins, members of the Loyal Legion, Al Malachuk, the Sunset Club, and business and professional men who had known Stewart well in the third of a century he lived and labored in Los Angeles.

BANDITS ARE FERVOR.

Find Nothing on Man They Hold Up
So They Manhandle Him Rascally
With Fists and Feet.

George Rodriguez of Wilmington was a much-disfigured individual when he staggered into the Receiving Hospital at an early hour yesterday morning. He was bleeding from a number of cuts on his face and head. Both eyes had been blackened. His lips were so swollen it was with difficulty that he could speak.

"I've just been beaten up by five men who held me up," he mumbled. He added that the encounter took place near the corner of Fifth and Los Angeles streets. When he showed fight the men knocked him down, kicked and beat him. They searched him, but got nothing. G. E. Van Ward of Rose Hill was also the victim of a highwayman yesterday morning, according to a report he made to the police. He encountered the Mexican fiends on the Brooklyn-avenue bridge. He was relieved of $2.50.

MAKES DOUBLY SURE.

Man Drinks Chloroform and Then Suffocates Himself with Gas Under His Bed Clothes.

Illuminating gas and a small bottle of chloroform were used by George C. Dolman, also known as Hoyer, to commit suicide some time Saturday night in his room at No. 321 West Temple street. He was found by Mrs. Julia Bando, the proprietress of the rooming-house, after he had been dead several hours. After swallowing the drug, Dolman had ducked under the bed clothing and inhaled the gas that escaped from a tube attached to a jar.

The dead man was about 40 years old. He came here recently from San Diego, where he used the name of Hoyer, judging from letters found in his room. A few weeks ago his wife went East to settle up an estate. Where he was employed is not known, though his hands and clothes indicate that he was a laboring man.

The Collars We Launder

In a Month Would Encircle the Whole City of Los Angeles

Over sixty miles of collars stretched end to end—200,000 collars a month—more than enough to cover every mile of the border lines of Los Angeles proper!

That's our average monthly wash—year in and year out.

This means something more than quantity—something more than sensational numbers—it means quality, too—good work and fair prices—the kind of work that cements and "cinches" trade and it means that thousands of people in Los Angeles have found no other laundry to give them equal satisfaction.

3C LAUNDRY SERVICE

Will Save You 25 per cent of Your Laundry Bills —Save Your Clothes —and Your Temper

Compare all our prices with all of those of any "combine" laundry in this city. Some may be as low as we on one or two items, but the amount we save you in the total will be a surprise.

And you don't get one whit less quality or care for your money, either. Better work than 3C work simply can't be done. We can do the highest class work for the lowest prices, for the very good reason that we have no delivery expenses and do the third largest volume of work of any laundry in the entire country.

Bigger volume of work means lower cost per job. That's where you save.

Work Back the Same Day Sent If Requested

No Extra Charge We make no extra charge for rush work. Whenever necessary and requested, packages left at any of our 51 downtown stores, before 8 o'clock of any week day will be done by 6 o'clock of the same day.

You can send your most costly clothes to us knowing they are absolutely safe, for a special five-thousand-dollar insurance policy protecting each patron's clothes against fire covers every package we receive.

These are only a few of the many reasons why you ought to be a 3C patron. The best reason of all can only be learned by trying our work.

Drop your next package into any one of our 51 downtown stores—and save money and laundry troubles.
